

New Medical Day Unit, Royal Marsden Hospital

Client

The Royal Marsden Hospital NHS Trust

Description

An area formerly used as a laboratory and pharmacy at the Wallace Wing was converted into a new Day Case Chemotherapy Unit. Accommodation was provided for reception and waiting spaces, four consult examination rooms, treatment suite and support areas.

Innovations & Added Value

The existing area was a narrow space crossed by access routes. The layout is based around the waiting space featuring a curved wall on two sides to maximise space and give easy access to consulting rooms. The brightly coloured floor picks up the curved theme.
