

Ward In The Community Hostel, South London

Client

South London and Maudsley NHS Trust

Description

A redundant Victorian ambulance station was converted into a hostel providing mental health pre-discharge bed sit accommodation and short stay and support services.

Innovations & Added Value

The stable block was a long narrow building with an open ground floor. This was converted to bed sit accommodation at first floor level with a large free form circulation at ground floor creating a feeling of spaciousness with good but discrete supervision. The residential accommodation is split between a group of four flats and eight bed-sits.
