

Medical Reception Station, ATR Pirbright

Client

Ministry of Defence – Defence Estates

Description

The Medical Reception Station forms part of the British Army's initiative to rationalise and improve training facilities for new recruits. It combines primary care facilities in the form of a health care centre, dental clinic and physiotherapy suite with in-patient ward accommodation. It serves not only soldiers but also staff and families linked to the base.

Innovations & Added Value

The Medical Reception Station also acts as a training facility, with a large number of consulting and examination rooms supported by seminar rooms and a library for study.
